THE CHINA MAIL.
HONGKONG, FRIDAY, DEC. 10, 1869.

CHINESE COURTESY AGAIN.
The following paragraph, which we quote from the North China Daily News, is deserving of all the publicity which large type and conspicuous position can give it. Confirming as it does the opinions expressed by every journal in China, and proving how thoroughly the example set at Peking in snubbing Prince Alfred is followed in the provinces, it may help to open the eyes of the blind at home. Our only consolation is that the insolent behaviour it alludes to, which takes its direct rise from the formerly imbecile policy of the Minister himself in supporting the utterly false representations of Mr. Burlingame as to the temper and wishes of the Chinese, has recoiled upon the head of the prime mover, and illustrated in a way there is no mistaking how far the certiality with which Sir Rutherford credited the Chinese officials has founded in fact.
"H. E.'s interview with the Viceroy and Imperial Commissioner Ma is reported to have been extremely unsatisfactory, owing to great rudeness and discourtesy on the Chinese side. The British Minister was kept waiting for nearly ten minutes outside the Yamen doors, although due notice had been sent of his intended visit, and the Viceroy's manner is described as blasting and loud. On complaint being made, the Viceroy protested that no intentional discourtesy had been shown; the delay, and, on Sir Rutherford's return to his residence, the presents were sent with the actomed formalities. These, however, Sir Rutherford declined to accept until an official of due rank should have been sent to express regret for the apparent discourtesy.
Late at night this official made his appearance, and Sir Rutherford then refused to receive him. It is to be hoped that this timely assertion of the dignity of a foreign minister will not be lost on the arrogant and complacent Governor."

The Courier however goes even further.
In its issue of the 3rd instant it makes a statement which if correct should call for the prompt punishment of the offenders. It says:—
"Sir Rutherford Alcock was treated with great rudeness by the Viceroy Ma at Nanking. He was kept waiting a quarter of an hour before he was admitted to the favour of an audience, and on his remonstrating with the official for his behaviour, the attendants shouted and clamoured and defied his objections. A letter of apology and present were subsequently sent from the Yamen, but the Minister very properly refused to receive either."

After this what will be said at home about the ardent desire of China to enter into the comity of nations? We must, however, thank the Viceroy and his attendants for supplying the common sense party in China with such a striking example of the truth of their previous statements.
